

GDPR Compliance

Dear participant,

This survey seeks to understand people's perspectives on the desirable properties of data that people can get access to by exercising their GDPR rights. Under the GDPR Chapter 3 (Article 15), you have the right to request and download a copy of your personal data from various platforms, which includes the information they collect about you. To make the data comprehensible for end-users, GDPR also prescribes different desiderata of these data reporting. In this survey, you will be asked to evaluate the implementation of GDPR Article 15 by different platforms providing similar services.

This survey is being conducted jointly by academic researchers from XYZ. Your valuable opinion expressed in this survey may contribute to important research findings. So we request you to read the instructions meticulously, and answer all the questions judiciously.

Results from the survey may be published in a research forum. The insights will be published in aggregate forms (such as averages and/or totals). We will neither publish nor share any information which will disclose any of your confidential information. All information will be protected to the greatest extent allowed by law, and data will be kept secured during and after the survey.

Selecting the "Agree" button indicates the following:

1. You have read the above information.
2. You voluntarily agree to participate in the "GDPR Compliance" survey.

Background on GDPR Chapter 3: Rights of the Data Subjects

Under the GDPR Chapter 3 (Article 15), users have the right to request and download a copy of their personal data from various platforms, which includes the information they collect about you.

Let's take TikTok for an example. If you have been using TikTok short form video platform, you can go and request your data on the TikTok App and get a snippet of your data.

For the process of how to request your data and how a standard TikTok data looks like please refer to the information at this given url:
